strength, the 10th Gds Mecz Div is not a cadre unit.

c. Third Gds Mecz Army (Cadre)

25X1

(1) The DECLASSIFIED Eq of the Third Gds Mecz Army (Cadre) was confirmed by the report until 6 June 1949

25X1

(2) Past reports do not agree with the statement that the quartering area of the Third Gds Mecz Army (Cadre) (not the Third Tank Army) comprised the area of BUCKENWALDE-JULIENBURG-BLANKENBURG. According to available information, the BLANKENBURG area does not lie in the quartering area of the Third Gds Mecz Army (Cadre). The perimeter of the army quartering area is shown in Annex 2 to a previous report.

(3) The above report also confirms the Third Gds Mecz Army (Cadre) to be a cadre unit, as it was previously assumed to be even after the army received recruits in the spring of 1949.

c. 35th Cav Regt: Although a 35th Cav Regt is not listed in the available wartime records, it is considered credible that the regiment may have existed in the Don River area in October 1941.

c. 185th Repl Rifle Regt: A 185th Repl Rifle Regt was assigned to the Forty-Ninth Army during the war. As the Forty-Ninth Army was located in the WARTENBURG-SCHNEIDER area in May 1945, the statements [redacted] are regarded as correct (para. 6 of Standard Answer Questionnaire.)

f. Discharges and Induction:

(1) The statement that personnel of the 1925 class in the Soviet Zone of Germany were already discharged by October 1948 (para. 12 of Standard Answer Questionnaire) is not considered to be correct. It is believed that discharge of personnel of the 1925 class was started in October 1948, but was effected gradually so that it extended until the summer of 1949.

c. 15th (Gds 7) Mecz Div: There has been no information on a 15th Mecz Div (para. 19 of Standard Answer Questionnaire.) The [redacted] referred to a 15th Gds Mecz Div which was possibly assigned to the Third Shock Army in the DESSAU-BURG area in 1946 and was deactivated in 1947. The 304th "Mosno" Rifle Div was activated in the West-Siberia A in September 1941 and was last identified under the Third Shock Army in Pomerania in March 1945. Although no pertinent information is available, it appears possible that the 304th Rifle Div may have been reorganized into the 15th (Gds 7) Mecz Div.
